

About

About

About the Organisers

RTC Events Management (RTCem) has a vision: to be a trusted builder of communities dedicated to the built environment. RTCem is a purpose-built events company dedicated to the needs of those communities, and run by the community members themselves. Supported by a professional events staff centered in our Sydney headquarters, RTCem now has offices in each of its' operational regions, and local committees dedicated to ensuring the relevance and value of each event for its individual technical, social, and cultural requirements.

As a community based organization, RTCem relies 100% on income from attendee registrations and the support of our sponsors and exhibitors. We do not run events outside the Built Environment industry, do not develop or sell any software or tools, and do not act as a primary or sub-consultant on project or practice related work. Instead we focus on our passion; providing the best environments in which to foster the growth and improvement of those communities.

About the Conference

BILT is an annual event, run in multiple regions around the globe, designed to cater to the needs of those who design, build, operate and maintain our built environment. As a community of professionals, it is dedicated to improving the way industry works together.

We believe that:

- Technology is an enabler of better processes and outcomes, not a driver in and of itself.
Our industry has failed to keep pace with others in productivity and innovation, but that provides clear opportunities for improvement.
- Our industry is siloed, fractured and too often adversarial; but we wish to play a role in changing this by bringing people together from different backgrounds to learn from each other.

Getting people to change behaviours is the hardest part of any change.

- As an educational and networking event, BILT provides a variety of opportunities to learn and share, to probe and challenge, to listen and to be heard. Our sessions focus on the use of best-in-class tools, processes and workflows, behaviours and leadership.

As a natural and necessary evolution of the RTC Community, BILT is a unique, independent conference and community. Whether you are a practitioner or consumer of BIM, DE, VDC; whether your projects are buildings or infrastructure; whatever your preferred technology; whatever your role in the lifecycle of the built environment; we want to help you, your firm and wider industry become more effective, more impactful and more productive.

No other event brings so many opportunities and benefits together in a single location. As a 'by users, for users' event, BILT is the best place to get unvarnished advice from the people who really know their stuff, yet continue to learn themselves. Business leaders, thought leaders, innovators and implementers; they are all part of our community and ready to share their secrets (okay, some of their secrets...) to aid in the quest for a better, smarter industry, and a stronger, more sustainable built environment.

For information about BILT, visit the event website at:
<http://www.rtcevents.com/bilt/>